2) CDiY3 Basic pressure regulator : The conventional system, equipped with the CDi 31 regulator and reinforced with sturdy bars, serves as a foundational option for those seeking reliable performance. While it may not offer the advanced features seen in higher-end model, the CDiY3 regulator provides competent functionality, ensuring standard performance for everyday needs. This setup is ideal for users who prioritize basic reliability without the extra enhancements found in more comprehensive packages.

4) Standard blue PVC pipe: The comprehensive package offered with the city regulator includes ordinary standard blue PVC water pipes, which are known for their competent lifespan. These pipes are designed to provide reliable performance and durability for your water supply needs.

4) General Appearance of the system :

Non-Compensative Package for Water System

- Components:
    - CDiy3 Regulators
    - Reinforcement Bars
      - Clippers
    - Winching Systems
  - Optional Feature:
    - The winching system can be eliminated to cut costs, depending on consumer preferences. However, it is recommended as a feature for optimal performance.
- If you need further details or modifications, feel free to contact our sales team

Conclusion: In conclusion, we offer two options for our water systems: the comprehensive package and the non-comprehensive package. Customers can select the option that best fits their budget and specific needs. While the non-comprehensive package may be more affordable upfront, investing in the comprehensive package often proves wise in the long run, as cheaper alternatives can lead to higher costs over time due to repairs or replacements.

One of the key benefits of the comprehensive package is its extended warranty, providing peace of mind for years to come. With the 3 year warranty, you can trust in the durability and reliability of your purchase. Choosing the best solution for your needs today ensures that you make a sound investment for the future.

We are here to assist you in making the best choice for your water system needs!
